01/26/2026

Form CRS - Customer Relationship Summary
Quantum Financial Partners LLC

Quantum Financial Partners LLC is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) as an investment adviser. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ and it is important for you to understand these differences. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at www.Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

We provide portfolio management to our clients and also manage a separate pooled investment fund.

When providing portfolio management services, we not only make ongoing investment decisions but also implement these decisions and provide ongoing investment monitoring and reporting. We do not limit clients to certain investment types nor do we sell proprietary investment products, but we do make our pooled investment fund available to clients. Portfolio management services are tailored to your individual needs and you may impose restrictions related to level of discretion granted, the types of investment used, etc. We do not require a minimum account size but reserve the right to accept or decline any engagement.

For additional information about the services we provide, please see Item 4 of our Form ADV Part 2A Brochure which is available at https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/138112.

Key questions to ask your financial professional:
Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not? How will you choose investments to recommend to me? What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

When providing portfolio management services, we charge an ongoing asset based fee. Asset based fees give an advisor an incentive to increase the assets in a client account since the more an investor has in an account, the more the investor will pay in fees. Our fee is calculated and deducted directly from your account quarterly in advance and may be adjusted for cash flows at the firm's discretion. Our fee is separate from all brokerage charges and any other custodial fees or expenses, mutual fund or ETF expenses, taxes, or other fees charged by outside parties.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

For additional information about the fees we charge, please see Item 5 of our Form ADV Part 2A Brochure at https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/138112.

Key questions to ask your financial professional:
Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

Some firms trade investments from their own inventory with their clients. We do not engage in these activities. We do, however, share revenues with outside managers when directing business and managed a pooled fund for which we receive incentive compensation. We also receive some non-monetary benefits from our custodian to whom we direct business and the receipt of these benefits is considered a conflict of interest because we do not have to produce or purchase them.

For additional information about our custodial arrangement, please see Item 12 of our Form ADV Part 2A Brochure at https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/138112. For additional information about the pooled fund we manage, see Item 4 and Item 5.

Key questions to ask your financial professional:
How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial professionals are compensated with revenue sharing related to servicing of accounts. Our financial professionals do not receive economic benefits or other compensation from outside parties for advisory services.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

Yes. Visit Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research us and our professionals.

Key questions to ask your financial professional:
As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?

Where to go for additional information

Please visit our website at www.gfp-llc.com or contact us at 913-538-5753 for a current copy of this summary, for our Form ADV Part 2 Brochure, or for additional information about our firm.

Key questions to ask your financial professional:
Who is my primary contact person? Is he or she a representative of an investment adviser or a broker-dealer? Who can I talk to if I have concerns about how this person is treating me?